NEW LONDON'S CITY MATTERS

Ex-Governor Waller Condemns Present Methods of Fixing Tax and the Salary Advance to the Assessors-City Budget Calls For $82,732 Increase Without Ferry Appropriation-The No-License Campaign.

commands the attention when

Only a short time ago he made a patriotic speech in the open in Hartford, with fully as much vigor as in that memorable but unsuccessful campaign in the old Third district when he was the democratic nomines for congress. He traveled from place to place in the district, and made speeches by night and by day, with "Dick" Morris acting as the advance agent. It's a mighty slow, one-sided city meeting in New London when Mr. Waller does not happen to be present. He stepped into the floodlight the other day when he came out with a communication in a local newspaper in which he condemned the present method of fixing the rate of present method of fixing the rate of fax at the meeting when annual appropriations are made, rather than when the grand list is fixed by the assessors. As it is now the city votes the appropriations and the rate of tax. and then the assessors fix property valuation to raise an amount sufficient to meet the appropriations. This he claims is a wrong method and it is about time a change is made. Whether he will advocate such a plan in city meeting is an open question. For sometimes men, even of the callbre of Mr. Waller, do not always practice what they preach, or write. Such a change could be made in city meeting, or else Mr. Waller would intimate that it could be in public print. then the assessors fix property

Mr. Waller also publicly preclaims his objection to having the salaries of the assessors raised to $1000 each, or more than three times as much as when he was the mayor, and double what it was a year ago. He declares that the job as it is performed is not worth that money, but he does not even hint at the $300 raise in the salary of clerk to the assessors which will make the pay $1800 a year, the very best political job in the city, and it is that and nothing more. When that office was created it was with very best political job in the city, and it is that and nothing more. When that office was created it was with the idea that it would be filled by a civil engineer, who would make a survey of every piece of real estate in the city, and to collect all information that was required by the assessors. In fact do all the work of the assessors, who then received a saiary of $300 each for a couple of months' work at the most. This has months' work at the most. This has never been done. The work of the office may have increased and per-haps that's a reason for the raise in

However, the conditions in regard to the increase in pay of the asses-sors is that they devote all their time to the work of assessing property and all that pertains to their duties. That all that pertains to their duties. That is the three assessors are to be on duty every day. If they do this, the work of the clerk ought to be somewhat lightened. The present incumbent has held the office since its creation, and therefore ought to be familiar with the work that he has himself outlined. He is elected by popular vote and no democrat has been nominated in the past that could him any kind of a run for his give him any kind of a run for his money, especially as has had the back-ing of several fraternal organizations. so happens that the democratic nomines to be balloted for in the com-ing city election, is also some "finer" and there may be a split in this vote. Such a thing has happened in New London, when a city official's pay has been raised when his term ended. but defeat came on election day and the other fellow stepped into office and received the increased salary.

While Mr. Waller objects to the raise in salary of the assessors, the gentleman does not take the public into his confidence and tell how it can be prevented. There must be way, and the governor ought to know that way, and tell his followers how it can be accomplished. The layman s not wise in such matters. He only knows that the members of the court of common council vote the salary in-

New London, Sept. 21.—No resident of New London has taken as much active interest in the affairs of the city as Former Governor Thomas M. Waller, for as a matter of fact no man has covered such a long period of usefulness in public affairs. There are old men in the city today, that is, men of say sixty-five, who in their youthful days knew Mr. Waller as the "Boy Orator," and have known him ever since not only as an orator, but as a politician of the highest order, always a leader in whatever he undertakes, and always with a large following. Although now seventy-eight years of age his mind is just as keen as ever, his natural wit has rever failed him, and his persuasive powers with voice and quill remain just as forceful as ever. Within the year he has taken part in the town meetings with just as much activity as in the old days, when the people would follow his beck and nod, so to speak. The gentleman has never lost his cunning in matters public, and he commands the attention when he speaks or writes. a higher rate than ever, and without justifiable cause. The only voice the people have in such matters is a vote in city meeting to cut off from the appropriation made for these unnecessary excesses. That, however, would be considered as usurping the rights of the city fathers in framing ordinances to suit themselves rather than their constituents, regardless of the necessity or the cost. The city budget calls for appropriations amounting to $613,655, an increase of $82,732. This does not include the $75,000 appropriation asked for to take over the operation of the New London-Groton ferry business, and all that the change means. The mayor says that little matter will be cared for in the form of notes at low interest, but the dear people must pay

In this correspondence a week ago something was written of the liquor license question that is to be voted upon in New London for the first time in many years at the coming election, and suggestion was made that it was about time for the liquor men to come to the front and center and tell their side of the case, as it was a very poor question that had but one side. Since then it is plain that the license advoentes realize that it is time to put up a fight and they seem to be doing it by newspaper advertising, which is a very effective way. Say what they will and do what they may, it is about time the advocates of no-license realized that it is purely a political question and ought to be treated as such by the newspapers. It would be sure death to have the newspaper advertising on this political matter all onesided, and no one knows this better than the professional anti-saloonist. The no-license advocates are holding public rallies for the advancement of their cause.
